Card transactions are automatically tracked and can be reviewed online or by phone. You also receive extra benefits like Visa® Travel and Emergency Assistance, Visa® Purchase Security, lost luggage reimbursement, emergency cash and card replacement and Visa® Zero Liability protection.

Does the card have a limit on how much I can load?

You can load up to $5,000 on the card at the time of purchase. Purchase transactions are unlimited, up to the available card balance. However, for your protection, there are limits to the number and dollar amount of reloads, ATM withdrawals and cash advances performed within a certain time period.

How much can I reload to the card and where can I reload it?

You can reload a minimum of $50 up to $2,000 per day until you reach the $20,000 maximum balance. Cards can be loaded at the purchase location and at Visa ReadyLink locations. To find ReadyLink locations visit: <https://usa.visa.com/pay-with-visa/cards/services-locator.html>.

Can I use my Visa TravelMoney Card to pay for gas at the pump?

Yes. A $75.00 pre-authorization will be marked up against your available balance. If you purchase less than $75.00 the amount in excess of the purchase will clear once that transaction is posted to your account. Transaction typically post within 2 business days. To avoid the pre-authorization you can pay inside the station or store.

Why is my Available Balance different than my Actual Balance?

Typically, your Available Balance is less than your Actual Balance because your Available Balance reflects purchases you have made that have been authorized, but have not cleared your account. However, there are some cases, such as when you have returned merchandise, when the Available Balance will be more than your Actual Balance.

What is the difference between a "pending transaction" and a "posted transaction?"

Pending transactions are authorized transactions, and a hold is placed for the purchase amount on your card. Posted transactions are purchases that have cleared on your card and the funds have been removed. There are some pending transactions that are more or less than the amount you have actually spent. This is because some retailers place a pre-authorization amount on your card for more or less than the total of the purchase. For example, gas stations make a pre-authorization for a smaller amount, such as $1.00 to ensure the account is active. Once you have completed your purchase an actual authorization is sent in the amount of your purchase. Restaurants, however, will typically send a pre-authorization amount for 20% higher than the total of your bill to ensure you have enough money on your card to cover the tip that you authorize.

Who can order and use a TravelMoney card?

Anyone can purchase a TravelMoney card from a participating location. Primary cardholders can order online up to one secondary card for family members or traveling companions. When purchasing a secondary card for a young person with no card experience, be sure to go over all of the materials that accompany the card.

No. You should only utilize your card to get cash or make purchases up to the current balance in your account.

How much cash can I withdraw from an ATM?

You can withdraw $2,000 at a time up to $5,000 in 5 days.

What about exchange rates?

The exchange rate is determined by the rate of exchange on the date of settlement. At times, using me at an ATM is less expensive than using a currency exchange to get foreign currency. Please note that an international transaction fee will be assessed on all international transactions. Also note that your receipt will reflect the local currency. Plan ahead and have a general idea of what the local exchange rates are before you travel. This helps you understand what goods and services are actually costing you.
